

BRIDGET PLATT . www.DaddysDeployed.com
252-876-9116 . Bridget@DaddysDeployed.com

Personalized Children's Books

What people are saying about Bridget & Daddy's Deployed

As an elementary school counselor, I recommend this book to parents. Daddy's Deployed is a great resource to have to help young children with a parent in the military understand and cope with deployments. It can be difficult for a young child to verbalize feelings of fear, worry, and anxiety that they are experiencing during a parent's deployment. This book is a great way to start a conversation with a young child about what they are feeling and to provide them with emotional support. Daddy's Deployed explains what a child can expect during deployment in simple, concrete language. This book is very easy for a child to understand and the author does a wonderful job of reassuring the young reader that what they are experiencing is normal and okay. After reading Daddy's Deployed with my students, I encourage them to express their feelings through writing, drawing, or role playing. Daddy's Deployed is a great resource to provide young children with emotional support during deployments so they can better focus on their academic responsibilities in the classroom.

~Lauren Huneycutt, M.S., NCC

"Deployments are hard no matter the length. Tom was coming and going every other month and trying to explain to a two-year old what Daddy is doing is extremely difficult. Daddy's Deployed helped us explain what was happening in simple terms. It also created a way for us to talk about Tom every day he was away. I was amazed how much this book impacted our son and helped him comprehend what Daddy does and provided a way for us to stay connected."

~Jessica Marsh, wife of USCG Lieutenant Commander Thomas Marsh

Bridget Platt approached a problem that she knows first hand as a military spouse and solved it creatively, empathetically and with an eye towards future possibilities. The Daddy's Deployed series not only establishes Bridget and her team as champions for military kids at a time of confusing transition in their lives, but also positions her squarely in the middle of a great tradition of innovative business builders—people who see the opportunity to make the world a better place, and seize it.

~Eric Schurenberg, President and Editor-in-Chief Inc. Magazine

"I recently ordered a copy of Daddy's Deployed for my children, a son and a daughter. I am also in the military, and contacted Bridget (DD/MD CEO) to see if they offer Mommy's Deployed as well (they do). I had ordered many other books online, but there was one resounding problem: all the books showed Caucasian children, and we are African American. When a friend told me about Daddy's Deployed I figured that they would be the same way, but I was happy to see that they did offer a color choice. I ordered one, but was a little nervous how it would look. After constant communication with Daddy's Deployed, I received confirmation that the book had shipped and I was very excited for it to arrive. Once it came, I couldn't have been happier. From the pictures on the website I knew it would be cute, but it was even better than I thought it would be. I will be ordering another one soon. Thank you Daddy's Deployed!"

~US Army Master Sergeant Raessa Patterson

To schedule an interview with Bridget, or inquire about her speaking at your event, call 252-876-9116 or email Bridget@DaddysDeployed.com

